

Internet related crime has become a very important concern in our continuing mission to prevent and reduce crime. Listed below are several excellent resources to help keep you from becoming a victim of an internet related crime or to assist you if you have been a victim.

Internet Crime Complaint Center (IC3): A partnership between the FBI and the National White Collar Crime Center. The IC3 offers prevention information and provides online reporting of internet crime.

www.ic3.gov

Federal Trade Commission: Provides information on a wide variety of consumer crime issues including identity theft and internet related crime. Offers online reporting of identity theft and internet crime.

www.ftc.gov

Georgia Governors Office of Consumer Affairs: Provides information regarding a wide variety of consumer related crimes along with investigation of these crimes.

<http://consumer.georgia.gov>

Anti-Phishing Working Group: Provides information regarding "Phishing" and provides on-line reporting of suspected phishing websites.

www.antiphishing.org

Report Spam: Spam email can be easily reported by forwarding the email to spam@uce.gov